Meet Jake Ryan

Sixteen-year-old Jake Ryan was able to be more involved in sport, thanks to an Activity Fund grant from the Halberg Foundation.

The New Plymouth local has Cerebral Palsy, which means he uses a wheelchair for mobility. Jake found it difficult to participate in school PE lessons and other sporting activities, with his everyday wheelchair.

With the support of the Halberg Foundation, Jake received his very own sports wheelchair.

The chair has enabled Jake to fully participate in both school sporting activities and weekly wheelchair basketball trainings at his local club.
